John Doe began his dancing career at 9 years old after attending a combined Ballet/Tap/Jazz class at Dance Chicago in 2010. Since then, he has studied Ballet, Modern, Tap, Jazz, Hip-Hop, and Salsa, and has continued these studies for 7 years.

John studies year-round at Professional Dance Center in Nashville, TN under the direction of Sophie Hendrix. There he has been able to attend a Tap Master Class under Sarah Reich, as well as a Ballet Intensive in the summer of 2015 under Madame Pierrot. This is his third year as a member of the Oakville Theatre Company, where he has been cast in numerous performances including The Wizard of Oz, Aladdin, Shrek Jr., Billy Elliot, The Magic Flute, and Honk!. He has also performed at the Metropolitan Theatre, appearing as a soldier in The Nutcracker in 2014.

In school, John is happy to be able to study drama, arts appreciation, and be an active participant in the Junior Choir. He is hoping to grow in experience as a dancer so he can one day perform professionally in New York.
