COCA Raises $860,000 at April Fundraiser to Benefit Arts Education Programs and Scholarships

Anheuser-Busch Presents Event for Eighth Year

(ST. LOUIS, MO) COCACabana 2018: Show Your Stripes, Center of Creative Arts’ annual spring fundraising event, raised $860,000 on Friday, April 20, exceeding its goal. COCA, the fourth largest multidisciplinary community arts center in the country, relies upon this yearly event to sustain its programming in University City and throughout the St. Louis community. With a core value of accessibility, COCA annually provides nearly $1 million in arts education programming at no cost to thousands of students in low-income schools and communities around St. Louis, plus nearly 300 scholarships and support services for students to participate in programs on-site at COCA.

The event, usually held on-site at COCA, was at The Ritz-Carlton St. Louis to accommodate construction at the COCA building – a result of Create Our Future, a $40 million capital campaign to renovate and expand COCA’s historic building and raise capital reserves and endowment funds.

This year’s COCACabana theme, Show Your Stripes, dictated the décor and dress, but beyond that, it was a salute to the thousands of COCA kids who show their stripes every day – coming to COCA from over 220 different zip codes to develop important life-long skills through training in the arts. At COCA, everyone is free to truly be themselves and express their individual talents.

“We were so pleased to have hosted 650 people at COCACabana this year,” said Kelly Pollock, COCA Executive Director, “and to have had the support of our Presenting Sponsor, Anheuser-Busch, for the eighth year in a row. We are grateful to all of our generous supporters who value COCA’s role in this community. Funds raised through COCACabana help students attend COCA classes regardless of financial means and bring arts programs to area schools that would otherwise not have these opportunities.”

Guests were treated to performances from COCA students, live music from Fat Pocket, live and silent auctions, and a champagne raffle for a custom piece of jewelry from Elleard Heffern. Also, back for the third year in a row was the exclusive Table 1 – a VIP experience, including perks for 10 guests.
